

The Citizen ECO was chosen as it complies with all the requirements set by Pašman, whose main condition was that it didn't rust due to its position near the sea.

Citizen Eco
UM301PR

CITIZEN ECO bench (UM301PR) in Pašman.

Pašman is an island off the coast of the Adriatic Sea in Croatia, located to the south of Zadar.

The city council was looking for a bench resistant to corrosion, which could be placed near the sea. Citizen ECO complies with all these requirements as it is a bench that requires NO MAINTENANCE, 100% made of recycled and recyclable plastic (legs and boards).

V. | The constant improvement and evolution of our products may result in some modifications of the technical specifications and characteristics of the products without prior notice.

BENITO

info@benito.com
tel. 93 852 1000